DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claims 1-37 in the reply filed on 10/20/06 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the claims in groups I-IV require common elements and do not require an additional search. This is not found persuasive because the search is based on different chemical features in that the search for the method of group I does not require any chemical structures and the claimed composition in groups II-IV do not require any steps of the process, as required in group I.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 01/62827 of record on 1449.

The reference discloses multi-functional N-maleimidyl polymer derivatives comprising a water soluble and non-peptidic polymer backbone having a terminal carbon, such as a poly(alkylene glycol), the terminal carbon of the polymer backbone being directed bonded to the nitrogen atom of a N-maleimidyl moiety. (see Abstract).

Note that the claimed water soluble polymer comprising a maleimide group are disclosed at page 13, steps 1 and 2 (two steps process) or a single step (page 13, line 20 onto page 14, , line 8)

The N-maleimidyl polymer derivatives can be used to react with a biologically active agent, such as protein or peptide, to form a biologically active polymer conjugate (see page 15, lines 3-5), corresponding to the claimed step (b).

Further, a N-maleimidyl, carboxylic acid PEG can be converted to the N-succinimidyl ester in that the succinimide ring is open), corresponding to the claimed step ©.

It is further noted that the reactants and the steps of the process are disclosed in the Examples of the reference.

The disclosure of the reference differs from the instant claims in that it does not disclose the use of a base, which is alkaline condition.

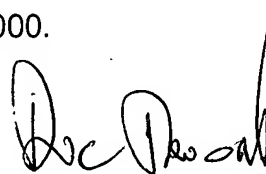

However, the reference does disclose the claimed step (b) and the claimed step (c) in that said condition is included. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to include the use of the claimed base in the method for preparing said polymer conjugate, since they have been shown to be effective in a similar system and thus would have been expected to provide adequate results. There is no showing of unexpected results derived from said use.
